AN OLD RECIPE
TO DARKEN HAIR

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR TURNS GRAY, FADED HAIR DARK AND GLOSSY

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and smoothly. The dappled, spongy or soft look with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by moving the gray hair discolored, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautiful, dark and glossy, and you are free from dandruff. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful preparation. It is not intended for permanent coloring or prevention of hair loss.

MAY REVIVE OLD AMERICAN PLAYS

DRAMA LEAGUE OF AMERICA
WILL EXPERIMENT TO FIND
IF THERE IS NATIVE AMERICAN TRADITION IN DRAMA.

United Press Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—To find out whether there is a native American tradition in drama from which plays of genuine American fibre may be written, the Drama League of America, in December, is to give a revival of some of the old-time thrillers. The program includes parts from "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Davy Crockett," "Shore Acres," "The Contrast," "The Girls With the Green Eyes" and "Andre." When Edgar Allan Poe was dramatic critic of the Broadway Journal he saw "Andre" forty times and even then had not entirely made up his mind that it was a genuinely good play.

Only portions of the plays will be produced, the best from each, and in such order that in an afternoon's sitting a spectator will see the progress of American drama from its pre-Civil war stage of development to that reached just before the present.

The forest service co-operates with sixty stock growers associations in Oregon and Washington for the purpose of bettering stock and range conditions on the national forest ranges of the two states.

THE LOST AMERICAN LEGION

(Note—Following is the second of a series of three stories by J. W. Renner about the "Lost American Legion" of the Canadian army.)
By J. W. RENNER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
ON THE PACIFIC COAST, Nov. 30.—(By Mail)—Two Americans who matched the leadership as of those of opposing American forces, fought and shook hands when they came face to face in Canada's American legion.

They are Lieutenant Track Richardson of Le Summit, Mo., a former corporal of Pancho Villa's army, and Major Andre Rasmussen, ex-major under General Obregon.

Richardson's future in the big war depends on the medical officers. He was caught in a stream of machine gun bullets at Neuve Chapelle while leading a machine gun company of the Princess Pat regiment. With seventeen wounds, the Missourian was invalided to Canada, where he joined the legion as a private on the day he was discharged from the hospital.

Major Richardson regards his previous fights as mere skirmishes. Enlisting in the Eleventh United States Cavalry in Portland, Oregon, he went to the Philippines as bugler in G. troop. The Mexican trouble was the nearest thing to a fight then in progress when he arrived back in San Francisco, so he lost no time in getting south of the border.

General Obregon quickly recognized Rasmussen's skill and the training he had received with the United States army. The Oregonian stepped from lieutenant to captain and after one spectacular brush with Richardson's command, was promoted to major.

That campaign was a loosely managed enterprise compared to the Somme and the Americans frequently caught sight of each other riding at the head of their forces. Rasmussen said today he tried all his skill in mountain embuscades in the effort to round up the Villistas. But Richardson kept him so busy fighting his way out of counter traps that neither was successful.

The opposition went to pieces suddenly. After the clean-up, Rasmussen learned that his opponent had gone to Canada. Richardson is still in Canada. After numerous examinations the medical officers forced him to take three months leave, which is likely to be extended liberally unless he makes a remarkable recovery.

"Seventeen machine gun bullets will make a human sieve of the best man that ever walked," said Captain D. S. Hutchinson of Mound City, Ill., a medical officer in the legion. "Richardson would have shipped as a stoker to get back to France. Tears streamed down his cheeks when our transport swung off leaving him on the pier."

"He is a student of machine guns and even gave up his captaincy in the legion, becoming a lieutenant again, to stay with the machine gun section. That in itself is quite a sacrifice, especially when a man has risen from the ranks as rapidly as he had."

The meeting of Rasmussen and Richardson is only one of a dozen reunions in the legion. Lieutenant M. J. Robb of Vermont was in the same troop with Rasmussen in the Philippines meeting him for the first time in years when the legion began to round up for service. Robb was a scout on the staff of Major General Bell.

Lieutenant E. L. Jacques met Sergeant "Paddy" Diamond as an old neighbor of the Yukon, where Jacques was a member of the Northwest Mounted Police. Both have served the United States, Jacques in the Fourteenth Infantry in the Philippines and Diamond in the revenue cutter service. And W. T. McCormick of Hoboken was an old friend of Diamond's "revenue" days. The "navy men" met Captain B. L. Goodwin of Dallas, Texas, former transport officer on the Buford. Among the Americans in the legion who served in the American navy are Ben Clarke of Santa Barbara, Cal., also five years in the coast artillery and Fourth cavalry; Stanley S. Dale of Ohio and W. Holroyd of Kansas, who called four years on the U. S. S. Kansas.

Private Joe Fahey of Springfield, Ohio, was a traveling salesman when he first met Captain W. E. Burr. That was in Detroit, where Burr was part owner of a jewelry store. Fahey's "line" was Fort Wayne "Bowler" tanks.

Lieutenant George Banks of Los Angeles is the son of a mining engineer and was educated in Mexico City, where he lived for several years.

Other officers of the legion are Major N. W. Guthrie of Springfield, Mass., and Washington, for twelve years in the constabulary in the Philippines; Major Allenback of Pottsville, Pa., and Lieutenants M. E. Burbank and A. E. Alexander both graduates of the University of Maine. Alexander is from Houghton, Mich.

SUMMONS

In Justice Court, in and for the District of Linkville, County of Klamath and State of Oregon. Klamath Hardware Company, (a corporation), Plaintiff, vs. M. L. Wells, Defendant.

To M. L. Wells, Defendant, above named.

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled action on or before the 30th day of December, 1916, that being the last day of the time prescribed in the order of publication of this summons, and if you fail so to appear, plead, demur, or otherwise move, for want thereof, plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in its complaint, to-wit:

For a judgment against you in the sum of one hundred thirty-nine and 80-100 ($139.80) dollars, for goods, wares and merchandise sold and delivered to you, and costs of suit and that the property attached be sold to satisfy judgment that may herein be obtained.

This summons is served upon you, the said defendant, by the publication thereof in the Evening Herald, a public newspaper of general circulation, printed and published at Klamath Falls, Klamath County, Oregon, once a week, for six consecutive weeks, the first publication being made November 16, 1916, and the last publication December 28, 1916, by order of E. W. Gowen, Justice of the Peace, in and for the District of Linkville, County of Klamath, and State of Oregon, which said order was made, entered, dated and filed in this action on November 15, 1916.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court, in and for the County of Klamath and State of Oregon. Jennie Sawyer, Plaintiff, vs. Robert Sawyer, Defendant.

To Robert Sawyer, Defendant, above named.

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before the 30th day of December, 1916, that being the last day of the time prescribed in the order of publication of this summons, and if

Save $25,000.00
Each Year!

THE present electrical service load of Klamath Falls if billed to the consumers at the rates to be voted upon by the citizens of Klamath Falls on December 5th, 1916, would save to the public TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS as compared with the rates under which they are forced to live at present.

If the franchise which the public is called upon to vote on Tuesday, December 5th carries by a majority of the voters the rates which are embodied in this franchise become automatically fixed and it is not within the power of any commission or any city officials to raise or lower these rates without the consent of the citizens of Klamath Falls.

This will give to Klamath Falls an electric service company absolutely under the control of the citizens to whom service is rendered.

This fact alone would be well worth the cost of the election in Klamath Falls in future years as a means of getting low rates for their electricity.

If you want cheap power, if you want to support new industries, if you want to keep your money in Klamath County, if you believe in competition as a means of getting the best service at the lowest price, you should be at the polls and vote for the Keno Power Company's franchise on Tuesday, December 5, 1915.

you fail so to appear, plead, answer, demur, or otherwise move, for want thereof plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in her complaint, to-wit:

For a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between the plaintiff and defendant, upon the grounds of willful desertion on the part of the defendant for more than one year previous to the instituting of this suit.

This summons is served upon you, the said defendant, by the publication thereof in the Evening Herald, a public newspaper of general circulation, printed and published at Klamath Falls, Klamath County, Oregon, once a week, for six consecutive weeks, the first publication being made November 16, 1916, and the last publication December 28, 1916, by order of the Honorable D. V. Kuykendall, Judge of the Circuit Court of Klamath County, Oregon, which said order was made, entered, dated and filed in this suit on November 15, 1916.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

EAT LESS MEAT IF YOU FEEL BACKACHE OR HAVE BLADDER TROUBLE

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Adv.
